S1- here are some good symptoms of ADHD
Hyperfocus is when you can only focus on one thing, this can be a good thing or a bad thing and you can hyperfocus on schoolwork or a show.
Resilience, because people with ADHD overcome challenges daily and use strategies to reach their goals.
Creativity because thanks to their wandering mind, creative ideas are more frequent.

Title side-
S1- so let us start with your basic ADHD facts
Adhd stands for Attention deficit hyperactive disorder
Its diagnosed more in boys than in girls because girls usually present differently
This means your parents can pass down ADHD through their genes
The basis of the disorder surrounds low dopamine and low serotonin
It affects the prefrontal cortex and premotor cortex adhd weakens the structure and the circuits causing behavioral struggles
The most common treatment is medication. The medication works by increasing chemicals in the brain, like dopamine and norepinephrine, to increase attention and concentration.
